

Index

A _____

abundance consciousness, 86, 299, 328–329, 392–393
acceptance, asking for, 98–99
action/reaction process, 10, 12–13, 293–294
action, requests for, 69–70, 106–107
addictions, 338–339
affirming what you love, 289–290
agreement vs. empathy, 13–14, 23 ambition, 117–118
anger
 effective expression of, 33–34, 51–54
 limitations of, 283–284
 self-empathy for, 324–325
 unmet needs underlying,
 85, 160–161, 321, 398
anger management course, as strategy for inner peace, 6 appreciation
 vs. compliments and praise, 387
 expressing, 64–65, 80–81, 91–92, 184, 236
 receiving, 65, 237, 238, 252
 requests for, 238
approval vs. appreciation, 387 assumptions, clarifying, 25, 145, 155–156, 270–271,
310–311, 340–341
authenticity
 living in, 95, 178–179, 296, 393–394, 414–415
 vs. shutting down, 108, 260–261

 supporting in others, 138–139
 see also honesty
authority, fear vs. respect for, 389 autonomy, as need, 86, 136–137

B _____

bad/good judgments, 16–18, 84, 152
balance, as state of being, 120–121
beauty
 judgments about, 54–55
 noticing, 158, 397
behavior
 attempts to change, 366–367, 419–420
 as attempt to meet needs, 46, 249–250, 332–333,
 338–339, 344–345, 397
 based on values, 399–400 “being the best”, 117–118 being the change you seek,
99–100, 114, 158–159, 251, 286
blame, 8, 52, 84, 89–90
body image, 62–63
body language, 161–162
body, nurturing, 167–168, 346–347, 348
boring conversations,
 increasing presence in,
 40–41, 229–230, 301,
 371–372

C _____

cause and effect, of actions, 125 cause vs. stimulus, 15, 232, 274, 276–277, 396–397

- celebrating, in daily life,
 - 141–142, 159, 327–328
- change
 - begins with self, 378–379, 419–420
 - life as, 291–292
 - motivators of, 67, 198–199, 202–203
 - steps to create, 142–143, 254, 332–333, 366–367
- children
 - modeling empathy with, 13–14, 36–37, 203–204
 - supporting independence in, 188
- choices
 - about expressing feelings, 407–408
 - guided by values, 79–80, 342–343
 - in “have to” statements, 67, 363
 - personal responsibility for, 8, 256, 383–384
- chores
 - needs underlying, 177–178, 197–198, 219–220
 - NVC process for assigning, 372–373
- clarity
 - request for, 376–377
 - in requests, 56, 166–167, 222–223, 266–267
- commitment, 119–120
- communication. See life-
 - alienating communication;
 - Nonviolent Communication (NVC)
 - process
- comparisons, as judgment, 31–32, 84, 275
- compassion, as innate nature of humans, 63, 400
- Compassionate Communication. See Nonviolent Communication (NVC) process
- competition, 117–118
- compliments vs. appreciation, 387
- compromises, 381–382
- conflict avoidance, 272–273
- conflict resolution with NVC
 - process four steps to, 329–330
 - hearing the needs of others, 49–50, 160–161, 240–242, 264–265, 403–404, 411–414
 - role of strategies, 240–242, 244–245, 264–265
- connection to self, 7, 189
 - see also* self-empathy
- connection with others
 - balancing with other needs, 339–340
 - vs. doing, 117–118
 - focus on, 165, 286
 - as human need, 57, 73–74, 253
 - as key to connecting with self, 189
 - as primary goal of NVC, 7, 9–10, 137–138
 - requests for, 28–29, 69–70, 106–107, 220–222, 404–405
 - see also* empathy for others

consensus process, 299, 350–351, 418
consequences of actions, 10, 12–13, 293–294
contributing to the life of others,
as human need, 60–61,
80–81, 124–125, 404–405
control, as strategy, 334–335
cost vs. value, 311–312 creativity, as need, 123
criticism, 175–176, 401
curiosity, cultivating, 168–169, 376–377

D

dead conversations,
resuscitating, 40–41, 371–372
demanding vs. persisting, 408–409
demands
rebellion or submission, as
response to, 116–117
vs. requests, 21–22, 96, 135–136
dependence/independence
paradigms, 86
directness, 130–131
dishonesty, 35–36
disorganization, 132
divine energy, in others, 249–250
doability of requests, 106–107, 217–218, 266–267

E

eating patterns, 346–347 Einstein, Albert, 332
emotional bank account, 115–116

emotional liberation, 32–33, 216, 326–327
empathy for others
acknowledging reality of
others, 112–113, 205–206
vs. agreement, 13–14, 23
balancing with other needs, 339–340
in conflict situations, 49–50, 160–161, 240–242,
264–265, 403–404
converting judgments into,
162–163, 165, 168–170,
224–225
healing power of, 16–17, 93, 177, 226–227, 375–376
modeling with children, 13–14, 36–37, 203–204
practicing, 103–104, 126, 255, 312–313, 391–392
responding in silence, 369 responding to silence, 231
as response to message of
others, 89–90
vs. sympathy, 93, 294–295
see also conflict resolution
with NVC process;
connection with others;
needs; self-empathy
empathy from others, 115–116, 128–129, 364
enemy images, 18–19
“enjoying the jackal show”, 78, 82–83
“enough”, defining, 74–75, 117–118, 185–186, 266–267
enriching life, as motivator, 8, 198–199
equality vs. fairness, 372–373

ethics, issues of, 395
evaluation
 vs. feelings, 29–30
 vs. observation, 71, 145, 155–156, 206–207, 270–271
exercise, as need, 210
extrinsic vs. intrinsic
 motivators, 259–260, 267–268

F

fairness, need for, 348–349, 372–373
faith in Universe's orchestration of events, 17–18, 152
fear
 as motivator, 8, 198–199, 202–203
 vs. respect, for authority, 389
feedback, request for, 97–98, 220–222, 404–405
feelings
 expressing, 81–82, 179–180, 185, 407–408
 hurting others', 130–131
 as NVC process component, 8, 25–26, 309–310, 407–408
 as response to needs, 15–17, 38, 213–214, 354–356, 358–359, 396–397
 responsibility for others', 32–33
 stimulus vs. cause of, 274, 276–277
 thoughts posing as, 29–30, 336, 386
 translating judgments into,
 99–100, 239
 vocabulary of, 3, 81, 211, 282–283, 336

see also empathy for others;
 specific feelings
financial issues, 341–342, 348–349, 373–375
fixing people vs. empathy, 228 focus
 future/past/present, 105–106, 192, 298, 303, 306–307, 318
 on what you want, 6, 162–163, 184, 235, 243–245, 251, 289–290
force
 in promoting peace, 313–314
 punitive vs. protective use of, 200, 233–234
formal Compassionate
 Communication, 94
full understanding, 340–341 future/past/present, focus on,
 105–106, 192, 298, 303,
 306–307, 318

G

gift giving, 343–344
giraffe
 as metaphor, 10
 screaming in, 262
giving in vs. win-win
 resolutions, 171–172
goals
 matched with values, 117–118, 342–343
 small steps in achieving, 149, 288, 361, 402
 specificity in setting, 6, 140–141, 314–315
good/bad judgments, 16–18, 84, 152
grassroots organizations, 377–378

gratitude, expressing, 129–130, 184

guessing vs. knowing, in empathy practice, 388

guilt

as motivator, 8, 67, 198–199, 202–203

self-criticism and, 41–42, 44–45

H _____

habitual vs. natural ways of
being, 400

hallway of life analogy, 142–143

“have to”

vs. “choose to”, 363

translating into needs, 39–40, 67, 197–198

healing power of empathy,

13–14, 16–17, 93, 177,

226–227, 375–376

healthy lifestyle, strategies for,

167–168

hearing, subjectivity of, 220–221 heart-based connection with

others, 10, 57, 175–176

see also connection with
others

honesty

four components to

expressing, 95, 280–281

“How are you?” and, 246–247

as means to connect, 258

as need, 35–36, 79–80,

108–109, 130–131, 144

in requests, 342–343

response of others to, 276–277

see also authenticity

“How are you?” and honesty,

246–247

humility, appreciation and, 65

humor in difficult situations,

156–157, 419–420

I _____

idiomatic Compassionate

Communication, 94

ignorance as bliss, 131

immediacy of requests, 107,

266–267

inaction, as perpetuating

problems, 304

independence/dependence

paradigms, 86

indirectness, 130–131

information, request for, 113,

131, 356

innate nature of compassion,

63

inner jackal. See jackal insecurity, overcoming, 97–98

integrity, as need, 79–80, 320, 395

see also honesty

intention setting for change,

142–143, 170, 255

interdependence paradigm, 86

interrupting wordy

conversations, 371–372

intimacy

need for, 75–76

vs. self-protection, as needs,

367–369

intrinsic vs. extrinsic motivators,

259–260, 267–268

J _____

jackal

as metaphor, 11–12

as teacher, 78, 82–83,

172–173, 305–306

joy, as motivator, 116–117
judgments
 anger as result of, 52, 54
 about circumstances and events, 17–18, 152
 comparisons as, 31–32, 275
 converting to empathy for
 others, 162–163, 165, 168–170, 224–225
 moralistic, 16–17, 84
 moral vs. value, 401
 vs. observations, 71, 145, 155–156, 206–209, 270–271
 as response to messages of
 others, 89–90
 shifting into self-empathy, 30–31, 41–42, 78–79,
 196–197, 239, 379
 vs. understanding, 18–19

K _____
kindness vs. directness, 130–131

knowing vs. guessing, in empathy practice, 388

L _____
laughter, healing power of, 156–157

life-alienating communication, 84

life-alienating vs. life-connected activities, 390

listening to others. See
 connection with others;
 empathy for others

love
 affirming what you love, 289–290
 encouraging in others, 60–61
 as feeling and need, 277

 giving and receiving, 58–61, 189, 190, 416–417
 meeting need for, 278, 415–416
love of power vs. power of
 love, 101–102

M _____
manifestation process, 6, 58–59, 61–62, 68–69, 151, 289–290
mediation with NVC, 244–245, 403–404
 see also conflict resolution
 with NVC
meetings, productivity in, 166–167, 222–223
messages of others, responding to, 49–50, 89–90, 279–280
milk parable, 122–123
mindfulness, as basis of NVC, 245–246
money, and NVC process, 348–349, 373–375
moralistic judgments, 16–17, 84
 see also judgments
moral judgment vs. value
 judgment, 401
motivators of behavior
 enriching life, 8, 199
 intrinsic vs. extrinsic, 259–260, 267–268
 joy, 116–117
 shame and guilt, 8, 67, 198–199, 202–203
mourning process of NVC,
 44–45, 173–174

N _____
natural vs. habitual ways of
 being, 400

needs

- behavior as attempt to meet, 46, 134, 177–178, 219–220, 338–339, 344–347, 357
- in conflict resolution, 240–242, 244–245, 264–265, 373–375, 403–404, 411–414
- disconnected from, by “shoulds”, 39–40, 179–180
- in group setting, 409–410
- identifying, 323–324, 366–367
- as origin of feelings, 15–17, 38, 213–214, 358–359, 396–397, 406
- persistence in attempts to meet, 229–230
- as prerequisite for change, 142–143
- prioritizing, 133, 197–198, 339–340, 353–354
- shifting from one need to another, 171–172, 251, 381–382
- vs. strategies, 26–27, 72–73, 90–91, 154–155, 411–412
- strategies for meeting, 87, 132, 151, 319, 323–324, 411–412
- translating judgments into, 41–42, 99–100, 240–241
- vocabulary of, 4, 37
- see also* empathy; universality of values and needs; unmet needs; valuing everyone’s needs equally
- negative self-talk, 41–42
- negotiation, based on needs, 373–375
- nice vs. selfish, 308–309
- “no” messages, 88–89, 135–136

Nonviolent Communication

- (NVC) process
 - formal vs. idiomatic, 94
 - and money, 348–349, 373–375
 - overview, 7, 8, 24–29
 - regular practice of, 126, 255, 391–392
 - see also* feelings; needs; observations; requests

O

- observations
 - defined, 8, 24–25, 281
 - vs. judgment and evaluation, 71, 145, 155–156, 206–209, 270–271
- Oneness of all, 48
- order, need for, 132
- over-consumption, reducing, 175
- overeating, 346–347

P

- pain
 - addictions and, 338–339
 - physical vs. emotional, 185
- parable of shopping for milk, 122–123
- parenting
 - long term goal of, 202–203
 - modeling empathy with children, 13–14, 36–37, 203–204
 - paradoxical needs in, 188
- past/present/future, focus on, 105–106, 192, 298, 303, 306–307, 318
- peace
 - attitudes that promote, 50–51, 68–69, 172–173, 194–195, 313–314

- peace (continued)
 local efforts supportive of,
 377–378
- perfection, as unreachable goal, 103–104
- persistence, in seeking resolution, 135–136, 229–230, 264–265
- persisting vs. demanding, 408–409
- perspective
 maintaining, 146
 shifting, 302–303, 318
- play, need for, 337
- “please”, in messages, 85, 252
- positive action request, 217–218
- power of love vs. love of power, 101–102
- power over vs. power with,
 259–260
- power struggles with children, 204
- praise vs. appreciation, 387
- presence
 in boring conversations, 40–41, 229–230, 301, 371–372
 self-empathy and, 78–79, 89–90, 128–129
- present/past/future, focus on,
 105–106, 192, 298, 303, 306–307, 318
- prioritizing needs, 339–342
- progress
 celebrating, 141–142, 159
 noting, 402
 small steps of, 314–316
- protection vs. intimacy, as
 needs, 367–369
- protective use of force, 200, 233
- pseudo-feelings, 29–30, 336, 386
- Puja, 62–63
- punishment avoidance, as motivator, 84, 200
- punitive use of force, 200, 234
- purpose of each person, inherent, 66, 117–118, 186–187, 295, 379–380
- R _____
- radical self-acceptance, 62–63
- reality
 of others, acknowledging, 112–113
 subjective perception of, 299
- rebellion or submission, as
 response to demands, 96, 116–117
- reflecting what is heard, 220–221
- regret, 16–17, 46
- rejection, 88–89, 104–105
- relationships
 evaluating with feelings and
 needs, 192–193
 identifying needs in, 61–62
 improving with NVC, 8, 9–10, 191, 325–326, 378–379
 need for honesty in, 144
 taking risks in, 131, 292–293, 333–334
see also valuing everyone’s needs equally
- requests
 for acceptance, 98–99
 for action, 69–70, 106–107
 beneath anger, 85
 for appreciation, 238

requests (continued)
 aspects of, 106–107, 217–218, 266–267
 for clarity, 376–377
 for connection, 28–29, 69–70, 106–107, 220–222, 404–405
 vs. demands, 21–22, 96, 135–136, 215–216
 honesty in, 342–343
 for information, 113, 131, 356
 meeting needs with, 225–226, 358–359, 360
 as NVC component, 8, 28–29, 153–154
 for productive meetings, 222–223
 as strengthening
 relationships, 191, 370
 resentments, letting go of, 143–144
 respect
 vs. fear, for authority, 389
 as need, 330–331, 413–414
 responsibility for choices, 8, 84, 256, 383–384
 responsibility for feelings of
 anger, 34, 51–52
 responsibility for feelings of
 others, 32–33, 274
 rest, need for, 183 “right fights”, 73–74, 322–323 right, trying to be, 9–10, 113, 165, 194–195
 right/wrong judgments, 16–17, 84
 ripple effect, 293–294
 risk taking, 131, 292–293, 333–334
 Rosenberg, Marshall B., 7, 12, 84

S _____
 safety, and self-trust, 7, 92, 362, 367–369
 screaming in giraffe, 262
 self-acceptance, radical, 62–63
 self-defeating behaviors, 271–272
 self-empathy
 in challenging situations, 228–229, 324–325
 ongoing, 128–129, 163–164, 209
 process, 78–79, 172–173, 243–244
 as response to message of
 others, 89–90
 self-fulfilling prophesies, 62–63, 170
 selfish vs. nice, 308–309
 self, journey toward, 335
 self-protection attempts, 110, 253
 self-protection vs. intimacy, 367–369
 self-righteous anger, 283–284
 self-talk, negative, 41–42
 self-trust, 7, 92, 328–329, 362, 365, 367–369
 serenity, as choice, 152, 268–269
 sexual expression, meeting
 need for, 333–334, 370
 shame
 as motivator, 8, 67, 198–199, 202–203
 self-criticism and, 41–42, 44–45
 shifting from one need to another, 171–172, 257, 381–382

shifting perceptions of events and situations, 193–194 “shoulds”, translating into
needs, 39–40, 67, 305–306
shutting down, 108–109, 260–261, 328–329, 371–372, 419–420
silence, responding to, 231 silent empathy, 369
social change, strategies for, 251 speaking your truth, 108–109, 360
specificity
in goal-setting, 6
in requests, 56, 106–107, 153–154, 217–218, 266–267
of strategies, 90–91, 281 speech patterns of alienation, 84 stimulus vs. cause, 15, 232, 274, 276–277, 396–397
stories, making up, 206–207 strategies
assessing, 280
control as strategy, 334–335
for meeting needs, 127, 151, 297, 323–324
vs. needs, 26–27, 72–73, 90–91, 154–155
NVC as strategy, 250
role in conflict resolution, 240–242, 244–245,
264–265
specificity of, 90–91, 281 submission or rebellion, as
response to demands, 96, 116–117
support, giving and receiving, 124–125
sustainability practices, 175

sympathy vs. empathy, 93, 294–295

T _____
teenagers, NVC with, 136–137 “thank you” messages, 252 therapy, as strategy for inner
peace, 6
Thich Nhat Hanh, 246
thoughts posing as feelings, 29–30, 336, 386
time, for NVC practice, 418
timing of requests, 107, 266–267
tolerance, 379–380
Toltec cultures, and Puja, 62–63 tone of voice, empathy needs and, 112–113, 161–162
“too much”, 133
“tragic expressions of unmet
needs”, 12–13, 33–34, 84
trust, as need, 102–103
truth, speaking your, 108–109, 360
twelve-step programs, 6, 338–339

U _____
understanding
vs. assumption, 340–341
vs. commiseration, 294–295
vs. judgments, 18–19
universality of values and
needs, 26–27, 47–48, 72–73, 154–155, 214–215, 406
Universe, as unlimited
provider, 151
unmet needs
anger as expression of, 33–34, 51–53, 324–325, 398
empathy for, 356

unmet needs (continued)
feelings as response to, 38
finding ways to meet, 353–355, 358–359
mourning process of NVC
and, 44–45, 173–174
and self-protection attempts, 110, 253
shifting judgments to, 41–42, 99–100, 240–241
tragic expressions of, 12–13, 33–34, 84
see also needs

V _____

value judgment vs. moral judgment, 401

values

actions aligned with, 79–80, 342–343, 414–415
as basis of behavior, 47, 125, 399–400
clarification, 178–179
in daily life, 150–151, 177–178, 320, 341–342
goals matched to, 117–118
value vs. cost, 311–312

valuing everyone's needs

equally

commitments and, 345–346
in communicating with
children, 36–37
in daily life, 182, 187
in interdependence
paradigm, 86
in making requests, 20–22, 87–89
as primary goal of NVC, 7, 126, 148, 339–340, 410–411

vocabulary for feelings and
needs, 3–4, 37, 80–81, 211, 282–283, 336
voice tone, and empathy needs, 112–113, 161–162
vulnerability, and intimacy
needs, 75–76

W _____

winning vs. connection with
others, 9–10, 113, 165, 194–195

win-win resolutions, 171–172, 299, 373–375

worry, 105–106

wrong/right judgments, 16–17

Y _____

“yes”, and possibility for change, 141–142