

Index

A

accountability agreements, 45–47
action language requests, 42–43, 54, 57–58, 65–66
action requests, 60
affirmations, as thought avoidance, 69 agreements, 38–47, 58–59, 64, 103–06
appreciation, expressing, 33, 88
assumptions in communication, 65–66, 99, 104
avoidance learning, 11
awareness agreements, 43–45
awareness of blocking connection, 13–15

B

backhanded humor, 78
“because,” as reminder, 18 bias in the workplace, 82–86
billiard-shot communication, 40–41
blame paradigm, 11, 18, 32–33, 96, 99 blocking connection, awareness of, 13–15
body language, effect of silent practices on, 24, 93
broken agreements, mediating, 103–06
burnout, NVC practice as antidote, 33

C

celebrating progress, 25–34, 87, 109–10
clarifying requests, 42–43, 52–60, 87–88
coffee pot issues, 101–02
colloquial phrasing of NVC, 106–07

complaints, responding to, 91–95
concentric circles of relationships, 37–38
connection
 awareness of blocking, 13–15
 at the level of needs, 9–12, 26, 84–85, 97–99, 105, 108–09
 requests, as test of, 61, 65
consciousness, as basis of NVC, 12, 22, 24, 89, 93
“constructive” criticism, 10–11, 96
Covey, Stephen, 74
criticism and blame paradigm, 11, 18, 32–33, 96, 99
cyclical learning process inherent in NVC, 10–11, 14–15,
25–32, 75, 76–77

D

daily practice of mourning/
celebrating, 30–34
data collection requests, 62–65
defending a position, as blocking
connection, 14, 15
dehumanization, as effect of enemy images, 68
demands versus requests, 11–12, 43–45, 53–56
demeanor shift, as result of NVC
practice, 22, 24, 89
derogatory joke telling in the workplace, 77, 79–82
diagnosing others, as blocking
connection, 14, 67
difficult conversations, NVC process for handling, 74–77, 91
disconnection, communication patterns that foster, 14
distinctions of NVC, 11–12, 30–31, 43, 84, 97, 106

doable requests, 42–43, 54, 56, 65–66
dream fulfillment versus requests, 42–43, 52

E

email messages, NVC-style, 106–08
empathic response, as communication option, 28,
40, 55, 114–15, 118. See also self-empathy; silent
empathy
“empathy before education,” 74 empathy, strategies for gaining,
72–73, 114–15. See also
role-play for NVC practice;
self-empathy
employment-ending process, 97–99, 108–12
enemy images of self and others
process for, 70–74, 75, 109
recognizing, 67–70, 82–84, 103–05
energy shift, as result of NVC
practice, 22, 24, 27, 89, 93
entry points for self-empathy, 16–18
evaluations and feedback in the
workplace, 95–101, 110
evaluations masquerading as feelings, versus feelings, 11–12
examples from the workplace,
throughout book, 9
explaining, as blocking connection, 14, 15
expressing honestly, as
communication option, 28,
40, 55, 114–15. See also out loud skills

F

feedback and evaluations in the workplace, 95–101, 110

feelings
versus evaluations masquerading
as feelings, 11–12, 123–27
list of, 119–22
in NVC processes, 16, 21, 24, 26–30
felt sense, as guide for identifying needs, 19–20, 71
force, use of, 90–91, 105, 110–12

G

gender bias, 84–86
goalie-magnet phenomenon, 69–70
gossip in the workplace, 91–95
gratitude, experience of, 26, 31
Greene, Julie, 113
guessing the needs of others, 19, 21–22, 71, 94, 115, 118
guilt, as blocking connection, 14

H

habitual reaction patterns, 10–11, 16–20
health benefits of appreciation, 33
hostile workplace lawsuits, humor and, 77
humanizing the person, 80
humor in the workplace, addressing, 77–82

I

information requests, 62–65
innermost circle of relationships, 37–40
intention, in using NVC, 9–12, 54
intention setting, 76, 78–79, 99
internal state, effect of language on, 19, 22, 24, 27, 89, 93
interpretations versus observations, 18 interrupting a speaker, 86–87, 89
irony, as humor, 78

J

- joke telling, as triggering
 - discomfort, 16, 30, 77, 79–82
- judgments
 - as blocking connection, 14
 - and enemy images, 67–70, 72–74
 - versus observations, 11–12, 16–17, 32, 43, 95–96, 99

L

- language of victimization, 18
- leakage of unexpressed thoughts,
 - effect of, 69–70, 74, 88, 89
- Learning as Leadership process, 68
- learning cycle inherent in NVC,
 - 10–11, 14–15, 25–32, 75, 76–77

M

- “made me,” as victimization
 - language, 18
- mediating broken agreements, 103–06
- meditation practices, as thought avoidance, 69
- meetings, strategies for effective, 23–24, 86–89
- memories, effect of remembering on, 70
- mental strategizing for fulfilling needs, 19, 53, 68–70
- middle circle of relationships, 37–38
- mourning mistakes, 25–33, 76, 79–80, 109–10
- multiple entry points with self-empathy, 17–18

N

- “needing” to be right, as blocking connection, 14
- needs, connecting at the level of. See also unmet needs

- and cyclical learning process, 9–12
- and making requests, 52–53
- in NVC processes, 16–24, 26–30, 84–85, 108–10

Needs List, 128

- needs versus strategies, 10–12, 43
- negative feedback, 95–96. See also feedback and evaluations in the workplace
- neurotransmitters, based on
 - thought, 69
- non-doable requests, 56
- Nonviolent Communication (NVC)
 - distinctions, 11–12, 30–31, 43, 84, 97, 106
- Nonviolent Communication (NVC) model, 106–07, 114
- Nonviolent Communication (NVC) syntax, 9–12
- Nuer, Claire, 68

O

- observations
 - versus judgments, 11–12, 32, 43, 95–96, 99
 - in NVC practices, 16–18, 21, 24, 26–30, 63–64
- orderliness of shared work areas, 101–03
- outermost circle of relationships, 37–38
- out loud skills, 36–37, 55, 114–15

P

- partner practice with NVC, 19–20, 31
- perspective, observations and, 18
- phrasing of NVC model, 102–03, 106–07, 114
- “please” and “thank you” remarks, 87–88
- positive action language requests, 42–43, 54, 57–58, 65–66

positive feedback, 95–96
 power differentials, navigating,
 90–91, 105–06. See also
 force, use of
 power over another, 45–46
 Practice Pauses, throughout book, 9
 practicing NVC skills
 agreements for, 38–48, 116
 effect on neural network, 77
 mourning/celebrating, as daily
 practice, 28, 30–34
 out loud skills, 36–38
 reminder triggers for, 9, 35–36
 silent practices, 19–20, 22–24, 28–29, 35–36
 prayer, as thought avoidance, 69
 prejudice in the workplace, 82–86 present moment awareness, 115–16
 present tense requests, 42–43, 54, 58–60, 65–66
 process requests, 61–62, 65, 88–89, 99–101
 protective use of force, 110–12
 punishment paradigm, 11, 14, 32–33

R

racial bias, 82–84
 reaction patterns, ingrained, 10–11 reality, impact of language on, 2 receiving empathically, worksheet
 for, 118
 reconnecting with self. See self-
 empathy
 recurring workplace issues, 101–02
 reflecting back what is heard, 61–62, 65–66
 remembering, effect on memories, 70
 reminders to practice NVC, 9, 36, 48–49
 requests
 categories of, 60–65, 99
 versus demands, 11–12, 43–45, 53–56

 formulating, 42–43, 51–54, 56–60, 65–66, 87–88
 to practice NVC, 38–39
 right/wrong paradigm, 14–15, 96
 role-play for NVC practice, 26,
 72–73, 76, 99
 Rosenberg, Marshall, 74, 110

S

sarcasm, as humor, 78
 scripting NVC conversations, 76, 94
 self-editing, 51–52
 self-empathy
 in dealing with workplace
 challenges, 28, 76, 81, 86, 88–89, 99–101, 106, 114–15
 in enemy image process, 71–73, 75, 76
 and trigger awareness, 16–20
 self-fulfilling prophecy. See self-reinforcing mechanisms
 self-reinforcing mechanisms, 68–70, 75, 113
The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People (Covey), 74
 shame, 11, 14
 shared understanding in agreements, 44
 silent empathy. See also silent NVC practices
 dealing with workplace
 challenges, 106, 115
 in enemy image process, 71–73, 76
 process of, 20–24, 118
 time-out for, 48–49
 silent NVC practices. See also
 awareness of blocking
 connection; self-empathy;
 silent empathy
 benefits, 13–14, 22, 24, 89, 114
 in challenging workplace
 situations, 55–56, 100

- as daily practice, 35–36
- socialization of children, 11
- somatic response to identifying needs, 19–20
- Stiles, Julie, 3
- strategy(ies)
 - for dealing with humor issues, 78–82
 - for gaining empathy, 72–73
 - for identifying/meeting needs, 19, 26, 89
 - versus needs, 11–12, 43, 80
 - NVC syntax as, 2, 9–10
 - unconscious, 19, 53, 68–70
- subconscious strategizing, 19, 53, 68–70
- subjectivity of observations, 18
- support team for NVC practice, 18–19, 116
- switching between silent empathy and self-empathy, 23–24
- syntax of NVC, as strategy for connection, 9–12

T

- termination of employment, 97–99, 108–12
- “thank you” and “please” remarks, 87–88
- thought avoidance, ineffectiveness of, 69–70
- thought, unexpressed, physical consequences of, 19, 53, 68–70
- time-out, articulating, 48–49
- training wheels sentence, 11–12, 106–07, 118
- triggers
 - accountability agreements and, 45–46
 - to initiate NVC practice, 9, 35–36, 48–49
 - self-empathy for identifying, 16–20

U

- unconscious strategizing, 68–70
- universal human needs, 9–10, 128.
 - See also* needs, connecting at the level of
- unmet needs, 26, 71. See also mourning mistakes

V

- victimization language, 18
- vocabulary of feelings and needs, 32, 119–28

W

- work areas, sharing common, 101–03
- workplace evaluations, 95–101
- workplace meetings, 23–24, 86–89
- wrong/right paradigm, 14–15, 96